Proposed changes -

(a) The term (s) “slow release and/or controlled release” be adopted to describe fertilizer products that release (convert to a plant – available form) their plant nutrients at a slower rate relative to a “reference soluble” product. Examples (not all inclusive) of slow or controlled release products that are coated or occluded, which control the release of soluble nutrients through coating or occlusion of the soluble nutrient compounds, have reduced water solubility, or are in the slowly available water soluble form.

- (5) Rule and Regulations for Stabilized Fertilizers – Dr. Waltz/Tim Healy
- (6) Definitions – Are additional changes required? Slow Release?
- (7) Letter to the Tri-Societies / Assistance from NCR 103 Group
